COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA
DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

Harrisburg
January, 1939

FOREWORD

A vital service of the Department of Public Instruction is the publication of bulletins containing authentic information and suggesting policies, methods, and materials for the improvement of the program in the public schools. These written documents crystallize in convenient form for ready use practices and principles evolving from the accepted philosophy of education in the State.

The educational services of the Department are numerous and varied. They comprise more than sixty distinct units. The Department aims to make available in concrete form up-to-date materials in every unit of service. Accordingly, the monographs which have been prepared, and which are being prepared, present helpful information with respect to the administration of school affairs, the financing of education, the program of instruction in its many aspects, the licensing of professional groups, the education and certification of teachers, library service, school employes' retirement, Pennsylvania in history, and other related functions of the public school system.

The present list of publications available for distribution is, obviously, tentative and subject to revision as certain publications become obsolete and new ones are developed. The list represents such documents as are available up to January 1, when a revised list will be prepared.

In the latter part of the present pamphlet is a list of publications now in preparation. Most of the documents in this list will be available by March, 1939.
